

LUNA CHALLENGED TO FIGHT A DUEL

Insulted a Filipino Peace Commissioner.

AGUINALDO DECLARES HIMSELF A DICTATOR.

Reported To Have Dissolved the National Congress—Rumor Credited by Countrymen in Manila—Efficiency of Insurgent Secret Service Causes General Lawton to Adopt New Tactics in His Campaign—Troops Now Prepared to Advance in Any Direction on a Half-Hour's Notice—Lessens Chances of Enemy Learning American Plans.

Manila, June 8.—[Special]—It is reported that Aguinaldo has dissolved the Filipino congress and has declared himself a dictator.

The report is credited by the Filipinos in Manila.

The efficiency of the insurgent secret service caused Gen. Lawton to adopt new tactics in his campaign north of Laguna de Bay.

Instead of the pre-arranged expedition of his troops under Gen. Hall at Morong and Wholley are at Pasig and are prepared to advance in any direction at a half hour's notice, thus lessening the chances of the enemy in learning the American plans.

One of the sons of Buencamino, one of the Filipino peace commissioners, was captured while en route to Manila by Gen. Luna. He has challenged Gen. Luna to fight a duel on account of the alleged insult offered his father.

A Plea For More Recruits.

Newburgh, N. Y., June 8.—[Special]—A United States recruiting officer here received the following dispatch: "Make all the enlistments you can in infantry, cavalry, light artillery and heavy artillery for the Philippines. Urgent."

The cruiser Boston started for San Francisco today.

DROVE REBELS INTO MOUNTAINS

Enemy Retreated and Scattered Before General Lawton's Forces.

Washington, June 8.—[Special]—The following was received from General Otis this morning: "The result of the movement in Morong province was to drive the insurgents into the mountains, capturing Antipolo and other towns in that section. The enemy retreated and scattered before our forces, leaving twenty-five dead on the field. Our loss was four killed and a few wounded.

"The inhabitants profess friendship, and ask for protection. A large number wished to enter Manila but were refused, as the city's population is increasing too rapidly.

"The leading natives throughout the island seek permission to send their families to Manila, considering that the only place of safety.

"General Otis also says the first volunteer regiments will leave for home the 12th inst.

Washington, June 8.—Arrangements have been completed at the war department for the departure within a few weeks of considerable reinforcements for Gen. Otis in the Philippines. The departure of the Nineteenth Infantry will be delayed, however, for about six weeks. The delay is due almost entirely to the fact that the regiment is short of men and must remain at Camp Meade until it is recruited up to the full strength of 1,326 men.

Gen. Shafter has telegraphed from San Francisco that he will send two companies of the Fourteenth Infantry, 200 men of the Fourth cavalry and 1,300 recruits on the transport Sheridan, which sails for Manila on June 22. This transport was scheduled to leave early this week; but owing to the discovery of a defect in her boilers she returned to the dock for a thorough overhauling and repairing. Gen. Schwan, assistant adjutant-general, who has just been ordered to Manila for service on Gen. Otis' staff, will probably go on the Pennsylvania.

BATCH OF FILIPINO "NEWS."

Aguinaldo Whips Lawton—MacArthur Beaten—Del Pilar Captured.

London, June 8.—The Filipino junta in London announces that a cable dispatch received from Manila reports the defeat of the American troops under Gen. MacArthur at San Fernando, and also of the army under Gen. Lawton at Antipolo. The dispatch also reports fighting at the gates of Manila and Cavite, where the Americans were again defeated. All of the monasteries in Manila have been converted into hospitals and are filled with wounded and sick Americans.

The message concludes with the statement that Aguinaldo himself commanded the troops against Gen. Lawton, in consequence of the Americans having treacherously imprisoned Gen. Pio del Pilar, thus depriving the Filipino southern army of its commander.

BELLAMY STORER IS LOST.

Washington State Department Cannot Find the Minister.

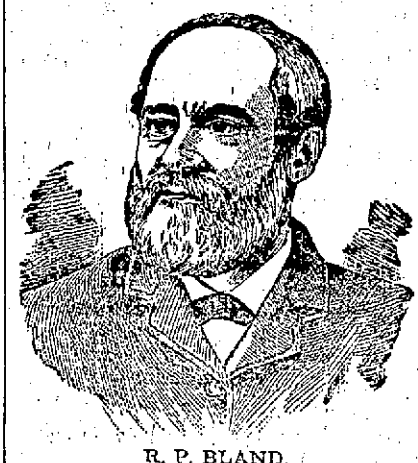

Washington, June 8.—State department officials have begun a thorough search for Bellamy Storer, the new minister to Spain, who has mysteriously disappeared. All efforts to learn the whereabouts of Mr. Storer have so far proved fruitless, and Secretary Hay admitted that the nation's agent was "officially lost."

According to agreement Minister Storer was to present his credentials to the Madrid government Saturday last. Officials are now seriously alarmed. At first it was supposed that he had been delayed, but it has now developed that no word has been received from Mr. Storer since his conference with the Duke d'Arcos in Paris three weeks ago.

May Cut the Circuit Soon.

Chicago, June 8.—The rumor that the Cleveland National league team will soon drop out of the race will not down. It is now strongly asserted that the visit of President Frank de Haas Robinson to Chicago last week was in connection with the proposed deal. The transfer of Sudhoff and Lave Cross to the St. Louis team strengthened the assertion, and it is probable that the change will be made before July 4. Whether or not the Western league will be mixed up in the change is not clear, but it is likely that the prosperous western organization will profit to some extent. President Johnson of the Western league has been for several days on a tour of inspection in the league cities.

Milwaukee, Wis., June 8.—The United States Court of Appeals, holding court in this city, handed down an important decision affecting the alien labor law. Hanna Not to Retire.

Cleveland, June 8.—Senator Hanna today flatly denied the report sent from Washington that he intended to retire from the chairmanship of the national republican committee. "It's a sheer fabrication," said the senator. "I don't see how or by whom the story could have been started. There is no basis for it. I shall retire from the chairmanship when my term is up, of course, but you can say that I fully expect to call the next national convention to order."

CARE SHOULD BE EXERCISED

Local Dairymen Be Careful! Test the Health Officer Gets After You.

Too much care cannot be exercised by the local dairymen in the matter of securing pure and wholesome milk. Dispatches from Chicago say that as the result of a test made at the stock yards by the live stock commissioners and health officers, it was discovered that all of the twenty five cows examined were suffering from tuberculosis. While there was no outward sign of the disease yet each animal was in a last stage of consumption. From the lungs of one subject a pint of germs were taken, another had tuberculosis of the liver. Milk from all those cows had been selling in the Chicago market up to a week ago.

That milk is peculiarly susceptible to the absorption of germs is well known and the health of the growing children—by whom the major portion of milk is used—demands the providing of every safeguard to insure its purity and healthfulness and the local dairymen should take every precaution and if they do not the authorities should.

Mrs. Edgar died from the effects of poison and two other people, Mrs. J. E. Ellinwood and Joseph Morrissey, were for a time seriously ill, both having the same symptoms as Mrs. Edgar, though in a milder form.

An investigation of the matter has convinced the police that there was poison in the pail of beer partaken of by the three people, which was secured by Wiltse.

DEATH OF AUGUSTIN DALY.

Widely Known Theatrical Manager Expires Suddenly in Paris.

Paris, June 8.—A New York Journal correspondent cables: "Augustin Daly died here Wednesday very suddenly. Mr. Daly and his wife were staying at the Hotel Continental. Miss Ada Rehan was a member of the party."

The famous manager and dramatic author had spent five days in Paris. He and his party had been seen in many public places, and were evidently enjoying their holiday immensely, although Mr. Daly was not in the best of health.

Mr. Daly was born in Plymouth, N.C., July 20, 1838. His career as a dramatic author began in 1862 with an adaptation from the German of Mosenthal's "Devorah," and since then he has produced many original plays—among them "Divorce," "Pique," "Horizon," "Under the Gaslight," and numerous adaptations from the French and German dramatists. He achieved also a notable distinction in the presentation of Shakespearean drama, although his productions in this field were the occasion of much conflicting criticism.

In recent years the combination of plays with which his name has been identified—Daly's company of comedians—has achieved an international reputation. Mr. Daly devoted all his time to his theatrical enterprises. He was an enthusiast and a hard worker, always noted for the elevation of his dramatic purposes and the completeness of his scenic presentations. He was a well-informed student of the dramatic literature of many nations.

ATTENDANCE LAST NIGHT ENORMOUS

GRADUATING EXERCISES WERE UNUSUALLY GOOD.

Many Eager to Gain Admittance Were Turned Away, So Crowded Was the Opera House—Presentation of Diplomas Will Take Place This Evening—Another Good Program.

It is quite evident that the citizens of Janesville appreciate fully the blessings of our educational facilities and the importance of the epoch in the students' life, the graduation exercises. Such appreciation was manifested, again last evening, Myers' Grand containing by far the largest audience since the exercises began; and the presence of those interested in the welfare of our schools speak volumes. Not only was every seat occupied, but the aisles were fairly crowded, and many were unable to even gain admittance.

Last evening's program was a very interesting one, and that it was enjoyed, was evidenced from the hearty applause that followed each number. The speakers made themselves heard in all sections of the hall.

During the evening the Oriental male quartette sang "The Rosebud," "Asleep, Adream, Awake," "Kentucky Babe," "Little Cotton Dolly," and a humorous number for an encore. Mr. Ward, the basso of the quartette, was called to his home yesterday, his place being filled by W. H. Jensen, of Chicago.

Kathryn M. Dudley's oration "Patriotism and Brotherly Love" was the opening number in the program. That her efforts were appreciated was shown by a most liberal applause, which was well merited.

The subject of a thesis by Llewellyn Spencer was "Queer Things in Nature." His argument was very convincing and he related several new ideas that many could not have grasped in their mental clutches, were it not for the fact that he proved his statements to the satisfaction of his hearers.

A well written oration in favor of "Anglo-American Alliance," was given by W. Francis Beers, who not only made a good appearance, but argument as well.

"Short Cuts in Multiplication" was the subject of an interesting thesis by Roy C. Palmer. He illustrated his theories with blackboard work and the methods as shown were truly short-cut and practical.

The thesis delivered by Boyd Nott on "Physical Education" struck a popular chord. It was an introduction to an exercise in Indian club swinging, which was made effective by red incandescent lights in the ends of the clubs.

Walter R. Pitcher gave a well written and well delivered oration on "The Future of America." He bordered on the line of the optimist, therefore treating his subject in a fair and impartial manner.

Elizabeth C. Collins gave a very good and highly enjoyed thesis on "Lesson in Geography of the United States." She demonstrated that the general run of people are ignorant on the subject. Her carefully prepared thesis was greatly enjoyed and brought forth many a hearty laugh.

"The Decline of Spain," by Ella E. Flaherty was an oration that proved very interesting and showed careful thought and preparation.

The subject handled by Clarence F. Costello was "The Telephone" and his explanations and illustrations were very interesting and showed no mediocre ability on the part of the speaker.

Owing to illness Estella Norton was excused from presenting her thesis, "Destruction of Forests."

Bessie M. Gorham gave a splendid bit of description in her thesis, "Cologne Cathedral," which was very interesting and well received.

The mental powers of Stewart Murwin and Joseph P. Conway were combined to present a thesis on the subject of liquid air. The experiments were interesting. Mercury was frozen by placing it in a flame.

Fred J. Holt delivered a very good oration on "Advance in Democracy." He was greeted by hearty applause. His delivery was excellent.

"The Class Will," by William H. Dougherty, was enjoyed and greeted with hearty applause. The effort furnished much amusement.

May Crall won many honors. Her thesis "Lead, Kindly Light," was well written and her singing of the hymn was very fine. Miss Crall's beautiful voice harmonized perfectly with the sentiment of her well prepared subject.

"The Swan Song" was recited by Miss Amy Woodruff with a feeling and grace of manner that added laurels to the many which she has already won for her declamatory powers. Her appearance on the stage brought forth a hearty applause.

A finale to the evening's program was furnished by the scarf drill, executed by eighteen young ladies under the direction of Mrs. J. B. Day. The young ladies were gown in white Greek robes and carried black and orange sashes. The drill was a series of graceful movements, dancelike poses and pretty tableaux. Those who participated in it were:

Grace D. Arnold, Agnes M. Moro, Mary L. Atwood, Grace I. Blanton, Augusta H. Mullenschlager, Lillian M. Ducker, Lillian M. Ducker, Myrtle E. Dewey, Lena E. Peterson, Jessie E. Harper, Ella A. Rudolph, Mabel E. Hillbrandt, Frances E. Ryan, Ada Hill, Joann A. Shorer, Elizabeth E. Johnson, Grace E. Wright, Lillian Allen.

Rose M. Enright, J. Thomas Hogan, Kathryn L. Fenton, Charles B. Woodstock, Ingeborg MacDonald, Leri G. Ross, Angelo E. Shattuck, Nellie L. Van Beynum.

EXAMS FOR FIREMEN ON NORTHWESTERN

MEN MUST GO TO CHICAGO THIS WEEK.

Circular to Local Employees Informs Them That This is the Time For Examinations—Charles Stearns of This City, Is a Member of the Regular Examining Board.

This month is quite an important one for a number of firemen on the C. & N. W. railway, as by the issuance of a circular they are called to Chicago to take a special examination with a view to promotion. It takes a three year's course of examinations in different branches of the special knowledge a fireman must know, before he can take his place at the throttle and become a full fledged engineer. He is subjected to a physical examination, must be well versed in all the signals, and when he becomes a third year man, he is put on the eligible list for promotion to the responsible position of engineer. On every position of the road such lists are kept and the same training is maintained. When it is remembered that there are nine divisions in the Northwestern system proper, without counting the Omaha and other tributary branches, it will be seen that there must be an immense growth of business to require such a large training force as each division sends in the same number of men. On the Madison division there are now twenty-two firemen who may properly be called in the senior class.

In Chicago they will appear before the regular board of examiners, consisting of Messrs. Wheeler, Watson, Bratt, Hankhole, Graff, Wallace and C. T. Stearns, all of whom are prominent officials connected with the operation of the road. Mr. Wallace is the road foreman of engineers on the Madison division and all of the present class of firemen are employed under him.

They will be examined at the present time in the thorough use of the air brake in all degrees and emergencies. They will be asked to give their serious attention to a severe drill in the time card and its changes and also the book of rules governing their work. If they pass the test successfully they are given engines as soon as a vacancy occurs.

START A TRAVELING LIBRARY

Woman's History Club Will Send Out One Next Monday.

The Woman's History club of this city, will send out the first traveling library to leave this city next Monday, and others of a similar character will follow in the future. The first will leave for Madison, from which point it will be sent out on its mission of education.

At the rooms of the public library are books on the Spanish war, the Philippines and the most approved fiction, bird books for the children, and in fact a remarkable variety for such a collection.

The books arrived yesterday from McClurg's in Chicago and will remain at the library until Monday and it is requested that members of the club and others call and inspect the library before it starts out.

CLIMATE AND CROP BULLETIN

Condition of Crops For Week Ending June 7th.

The average temperature for the week ending June 7th was 5 degrees higher than that of the previous week and slightly higher than the same week last year.

The rainfall was heavy in the southern and western counties, the total amount for the week ranging from 2 to 6 inches. Severe thunderstorms accompanied by high winds, rain, and in some localities by hail caused some little damage by washing, especially on light soil. All vegetation has made very rapid growth and the season is now fully up to the average.

Corn planting is practically completed and early plantings are ready for the cultivator. Considerable replanting has been done.

Winter wheat and rye are beginning to head out and promise good crops where not winter killed.

The crops of oats and barley have made good progress and are rank and of good color.

The abundant rainfall and the warm weather have caused a very rank growth of grass and pastures and a good hay crop is promised. Clover is beginning to blossom.

The fruit prospect is fair. Cranberries are making excellent growth and promise a good crop.

MISS KIMBALL IS GIVEN TIME

The Mary Kimball mission on South Jackson street will not fall into the hands of creditors, at least until the third day of July, they having given her until that day, to adjust claims of contractors. There are liens on the building amounting to $700. The property was to have been sold yesterday but the lady was given the extension of time. Several of the most prominent citizens of the city have kindly donated sums, but she has yet $600 to secure.

STARVATION AND MISERY.

Gold Seekers Die by Hundreds on the Klondike Trail.

MOST OF THEM AMERICANS.

Scurvy Is Ravaging the Miners Who Are Stalled in the Mountains, and Many of Them Will Die Before Relief Can Reach Them—Fuller Details Expected.

Seattle, Wash., June 8.—The steamship Laurada is in port from Wrangell, Alaska, with news of the death and suffering of American miners who tried to reach the Klondike gold fields over the all-Canadian route from Edmonton. Several parties reached Wrangell last week from the interior, after spending from twelve to twenty months on the trail in a vain endeavor to reach the gold fields.

They say that no less than 200 prospective miners lost their lives by drowning, starvation, exposure and freezing during the winter. Most of these were Americans from the eastern states. Scurvy is now ravaging the miners who are stalled on the trail and before relief can reach them many others will have died.

The Hudson Bay company, and mounted police have started small relief expeditions from Telegraph creek. The identified dead are:

Drowned—C. B. Preston, Trenton, N. J.; Harry Hitchcock, Texas; F. L. Bremner, Brooklyn; F. Preston, Philadelphia; Capt. Mason, Alaska; C. P. Smith, St. Louis; H. P. Munson, Chicago.

Frozen—Dan Taylor, Nanaimo, B. C.; Hutton, Vancouver, B. C.; John Paine, Vancouver, B. C.; Leighton, Victoria; H. Reardon, Cincinnati; J. P. McCrumm, Pittsburg; Robert Tonsila, New Mexico.

Scurvy—Fritz Klingman, Buffalo; James Monat, San Francisco; E. W. Thomas, Los Angeles.

Starvation—W. Z. Brook, P. Neely, Sault Ste. Marie.

Suicide—C. Richt, New York; Arthur M. Collins, British Columbia.

Exposure—Valentine Wendler, Philadelphia.

Fifty miners lost their lives by drowning in Great Slave lake. The boats foundered when a great distance from shore and no one knows the identity of the unfortunate. Many others were drowned while fording various rivers. Boats were wrecked while trying to shoot the rapids of Mud, Liard and Nelson rivers, and parties of from two to five were lost.

Fuller details of the deaths by scurvy, exposure and starvation will be had when a big party of miners, now fighting their way out of the country, arrive.

P. Neely, a Michigan prospector, is the victim of a former friend's treachery. With a companion named Graham, the story said, he had started out twelve months before for Dawson. On the journey Neely's hands and feet were frozen. A quarrel with Graham followed and Neely was left alone. Graham told him he was going on to the gold fields, and did not care whether Neely lived or not. If the miners locate Graham, they say, they will hang him for a cowardly act.

Many Hurt in a Wreck.

Atchison, Kas., June 8.—An east-bound mixed train on the central branch of the Missouri Pacific was wrecked a mile out of Goffs at 12:10 o'clock Tuesday night, and between twenty and thirty passengers were injured. From some unknown cause the mail car, smoker and chair car became derailed while the train was going at full speed, and the three cars, well loaded with passengers, toppled over a slight embankment. The escape of every one from instant death is considered remarkable.

SPEAK OUT

The Search Light of Publicity Is Pleasing Janesville People

Publicity is what the people want. Let the people speak on the subject. There has been too much claim, to little proof.

Claims made by strangers is not proof. There is only one kind of proof for a Janesville citizen.

That is the experience of people we know.

When friends and neighbors endorse,

Make public statement of their case.

There can be no question about such evidence.

This is the convincing proof we have.

Which backs every box of Doan's Kidney Pills.

No other kidney pills, no other kidney remedy.

Can produce such proof.

Here is one case of the many we have:

Mr. E. Dillenback, of 126 Milton Ave. retired farmer, says: "My wife was troubled with kidney complaint for four or five years, and complained of pains in the small of the back in the region of the kidneys. The symptoms all indicated that the kidneys were deranged, and the doctors who treated her said that those organs caused the trouble. As she did not get any better we thought Doan's Kidney Pills might give her relief, and procuring them at the Peoples drug store, I had her use the remedy. It did for her all that could be expected and did her a great deal of good. We can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills and you can use our names as saying what has been stated above."

Parnell had some pet superstitions, according to his biographer, Barry O'Brien. "He would not pass another person on the stairs. He was horror-stricken to find himself sitting with three lighted candles; the fall of a picture in the room made him dejected for the entire afternoon, and he would have nothing to do with an important bill drawn up by a colleague because it happened to contain thirteen clauses. He also thought green a most unlucky color—a strange and inconvenient feeling for a Nationalist leader—and the sight of green banners at the political meetings, he addressed often unnerved him."

How She Broke the Sabbath.

We find in a report on Sabbath observance, just presented to the free presbytery of Lorne by the Rev. Ewen Macleod of Oban, this statement: "The queen and royal family, it is deeply to be deplored, and have shown a happy example to the people in the matter of Sabbath observance. Her majesty's recent journey to France and arrival there on a Sabbath day must have been a grief to every enlightened Christian subject of her own and pernicious in its influence over the giddy and godless French."—Westminster Gazette.

Is a Lesson to Law.

One day, when the late Judge Pinney of Wisconsin was a member of the supreme court of that state, a young lawyer who was arguing his first case began as follows: "Ancient history teaches us—" The judge, looking up from the printed brief, remarked: "Young man, just pass over the ancient and medieval periods and begin with the modern era." The young lawyer was put out for the notice, but learned a lesson which has stood him in good stead ever since.—Philadelphia Record.

A New Currency.

It is reported that experiments have been carried on at the United States mint at Philadelphia for nearly a year with a view of ascertaining the fitness of aluminum for minor coins. Some 10,000 blanks of the size of the nickel five-cent piece have been delivered at the mint for this purpose. It may be mentioned that Congress some time ago appointed a commission of experts to investigate and report upon this subject, and the experiments above referred to are being carried on under the direction of its members.

Why Chinese Eat Rats.

The Laborer (India) Tribune quotes a Chinaman's explanation of the use of rats for food purposes as follows: "What a carrot is to a horse's coat, a rat is to the human hair. Neither fact can be explained, but every horseman knows that a regiment of carrots will make his stud smooth and lustrous as velvet, and the Chinese, especially the women, know that rats used as food stop the falling out of hair and make the locks soft, silky and beautiful. I have seen it tried many times."

Proof Against Wasp-Stings.

Mr. Murray, a Scottish naturalist, in a recent paper on the habits of wasps, tells how a blackbird will stand at the side of a hanging wasp's nest and deliberately tear it in pieces, in order to get at the larvae, apparently undisturbed by the swarm of angry insects, whose vicious stings instantly put to flight the human curiosity seeker who ventures near to watch the demolition.

An Address Wanted.

A well-known firm of London music publishers received a few days ago a letter from the organist of a church in New London, Conn., preferring the following request: "Would you kindly inform me how a letter will reach Mr. Ben Johnson, author of song words, 'Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes'?"—London Chronicle.

A Happy Miss.

A Georgia paper, printed in a locality where bullets have a tendency to fly, chronicles an office "accident" thus: "The bullet passed entirely through the chest of our foreman, Mr. Jones, but fortunately missed a plate glass window, which cost considerable money."—Minneapolis Journal.

Astor's Bargain.

In 1893 John Jacob Astor bought two pieces of farm land on the side of New York city and paid for them $23,000. They are now worth about $5,000,000, while the Astor family has collected in these 95 years some $10,000,000 of rents from them.

Progressive.

From the Washington Star: "This army scandal appears to be going from bad to worse." "That's so, I didn't think there could be anything more objectionable than Gen. Eagan's beef till I heard his language."

Quite Unconventional.

A Montreal paper, which has known success for twenty years, bars all sporting, dramatic and tobacco news, as well as the advertisements for the same, and will mention no sensational cases in the courts.

One of Them.

"My daughter," said the father, "has always been accustomed to all the luxuries of wealth." "Yes," replied the count, bristling up, "zat ees what I am."—Philadelphia North American.

OUR NEW POSSESSIONS

Senator William P. Frye was honored on April 27, by a testimonial dinner tendered to him by the business men of New York in recognition of his efforts in obtaining congressional appropriations for the improvement of the harbor of that city. In the speech which he made upon that occasion he had this to say of our new possessions:

"What shall we do with the Philippines? In my judgment there will be no uncertain sound in the answer of our people. They have been acquired honestly, and in the acquisition we have dealt generously with Spain. We will hold them as our own, for the good of the people who inhabit them and for the immense advantage, commercially, they promise us. We will give them a good government, relief from taxation, ample security in all their civil and religious rights. We will build highways, construct railroads, erect school houses and churches. We will allow them to participate in government so far and so fast as we may find them capable. We will give employment to laborer and good wages to laborer. We will arouse in them ambition to become good citizens, competent to manage their own local affairs and interests. We will make it possible for them some time in the future to form a stable republican government, capable of making treaties, enforcing their rights under them, and observing their obligations. Then, we alone, being the judges of their competency, will surrender to them the sovereignty, reserving to ourselves the naval and coaling stations necessary for our commerce and its protection. In the meantime we will not restore a rod to Spain or sell a rod to any nation of the earth; nor will we permit our supreme authority to be diminished or questioned by any power within or without the islands.

"I am encouraged and strengthened in my faith that the republic will survive the acquisition of Cuba, Porto Rico and the Philippines; and that the advantages to be derived by us, commercially, will compensate us a hundred-fold for all the cost, while the war waged for humanity's sake will, if we are faithful, lay up for the republic treasures in heaven."

Scientists seem determined to destroy the well known reputation of the pudmucks at the Janesville ostrich farm. Now there comes an eminent authority who says the sea horse alone possesses the power which was common to many of the older fishes, that of turning its head independently of its body. The sea horse can also turn its eye in almost any direction. However, we feel that the pudmuck has earned its reputation and will hold it regardless of the subsidized scientists who are trying to boom the sea horse.

Uncle Sam takes good care of his fighting sons. Each American soldier in the Philippines is provided with two full suits of Khaki, two white duck suits, an unlined blouse, a pair of Kersey trousers, a campaign hat, a cork helmet, a pair of leggings, one pair of barrack and one of russet shoes, and both wool and cotton underwear.

When Gen. Miles was fighting Indians in the west he learned the art of "trailing" so that he was able to trace the course of a single man over prairie grass as few, except Indians, can do. It is too bad that the general did not at the same time acquire the Indian habit of keeping his own counsel, as his habit of talking keeps him in hot water most of the time.

Nine-tenths of the inhabitants of Guam, the island in the Pacific which the United States recently acquired from Spain, can read and write. They are rapidly learning English and are anxious to assume American manners and customs.

Couldn't Keep Count.

Mamma (Impatiently)—Charlie, how many times have I told you to keep away from the sideboard? Charlie—I don't know. I can only count to eleven.

LITTLE SALE OF PARIS GREEN

Merchants Must Find Other Outlets for Potato Bug Dope.

Janesville grocers and druggists who have stocked up with rations for the extermination of potato bugs, are doomed to disappointment this year, and must from necessity find other outlets for their store of Paris green. Where are the tuber bugs? They have been winter killed, and thus far the appearance of only a few have been reported in the vicinity of Janesville. They are very few or they have made an agreement to wait until the potatoes have grown enough to give them all a bite. Whoever may be the case the farmers are happy, and predict one of the best years for tuber raising ever experienced in Wisconsin.

GAVE AN ENJOYABLE PICNIC

Sunday School Class of St. John's German Lutheran Church.

At Crystal Springs park today, members of the Sunday School class of St. John's German Lutheran church made merry by the giving of one of those good old fashioned picnics, where everyone has a good time.

At 10 o'clock this morning one hundred members of the Sunday School class headed by the G. A. R. file and drum corps marched to the boat landing, where they boarded the steamer Columbia.

During the noon hour a picnic dinner was served and games of various kinds furnished plenty of amusement throughout the day.

LAST ATTRACTION OF SEASON

Roland Reed At Myers Grand, Wednesday Evening, June 14.

After an absence of seven seasons Roland Reed and his excellent company including Isadore Rush will appear at Myers Grand, Wednesday June 14. Mr. Reed will present for the first time here his new comedy, "The Wrong Mr. Wright" which has scored an immense success. It is highly amusing and entertaining and Mr. Reed has been fitted with a strong character in Seymour Sites. It is that of a wealthy man who had been famous for his parsimony until he becomes interested in a pretty woman, when the lavishness of his generosity exceeded all bounds. This individual had been robbed of $50,000 by a trusted clerk. In hopes of capturing the thief himself and thus save the reward offered the merchant assumes the name of Mr. Wright. It so happens that the absconding clerk also assumes the name of Mr. Wright. Numerous complications result.

A fascinating young woman is engaged by a detective agency to take charge of the case. She meets the wrong Mr. Wright, and believing him the guilty man, strives to make him fall in love himself, and is heartbroken until she learns he is not the right Mr. Wright, when happiness comes to herself and everybody else who deserves it. There are half a dozen other characters, an amusing English lordling, an heiress, who wishing "to be loved for herself alone," changes places with her maid, an "unappropriated" spinster, who long to be loved on any account, a hypocritical psalm singer and a United States military officer.

Sound Common Sense...

The saying is an old one but nevertheless a true one, "the best is always the cheapest." It has been proven true in Bicycles to a very great extent. People who bought "cheap" wheels last season and the year before are investing in good wheels this year. Too much expense in repairs, too hard running, in fact entirely worn out.

Wolf-American Bicycles
are good to the core. Cost a trifle more is true, but worth enough more to make up.

Boils and Pimples Give Warning.

AN UNFAILING SIGN THAT NATURE IS APPEALING FOR HELP.

When Nature is overtaken, she has her own way of giving notice that assistance is needed. She does not ask for help until it is impossible to get along without it. Boils and pimples are an indication that the system is accumulating impurities which must be gotten rid of; they are an urgent appeal for assistance—a warning that can not safely be ignored.

To neglect to purify the blood at this time means more than the annoyance of painful boils and unsightly pimples. If these impurities are allowed to remain, the system succumbs to an ordinary illness, and is unable to withstand the many ailments which are so prevalent during spring and summer.

Mrs. L. Gentile, 2004 Second Avenue, Seattle, Wash., says: "I was afflicted for a long time with pimples, which were very annoying, as they disfigured my face fearfully. After using many other remedies in vain, S. S. S. promptly and thoroughly cleansed my blood, and now I rejoice in a good complexion, which I never had before."

Capt. W. H. Dunlap, of the A. G. S. R. R., Chattanooga, Tenn., writes: "Several boils and carbuncles broke out upon me, causing great pain and annoyance. My blood seemed to be in a riotous condition, and nothing I took seemed to do any good. Six bottles of S. S. S. cured me completely and my blood has been perfectly pure ever since."

S. S. S. FOR THE BLOOD
is the best blood remedy, because it is purely vegetable and is the only one that is absolutely free from potash and mercury. It promptly purifies the blood and thoroughly cleanses the system, builds up the general health and strength. It cures Scrofula, Eczema, Cancer, Rheumatism, Tetters, Boils, Sores, etc., by going direct to the cause of the trouble and forcing out all impure blood.

TYPHOID FEVER CAUSED HIS DEATH

EDGAR P. HUMPHREY DIES FAR FROM HOME.

His Demise Took Place Tuesday in Central America - Was with Government Surveying Party - Dr. Clark A. Miner Died Yesterday at His Home in Milwaukee.

Edgar P. Humphrey, who left his home in this city, in December 1897, to work with a surveying party to lay out a route for the Nicaragua canal in Central America, died last Tuesday.

The sad news reached local relatives yesterday by the receipt of a telegram, which merely stated that death resulted from typhoid fever.

Mr. Humphrey kept his health very well for the first year. Many of his comrades succumbed but he wrote home that he felt much encouraged over his own good health. He was possessed of strong will power and pulled himself through many emergencies by sheer force of will and indomitable energy.

Mr. Humphrey saw all the developments of the last Nicaragua revolution, and extracts from his letters were read with interest by Gazette subscribers. He was quick to see the possibilities in the reform movement, and expressed strong faith in the future of Central American states when liberal government had been established.

Edgar P. Humphrey was born at Emerald Grove, July 14, 1867, he graduated from the High school at Waterloo, Wis., in 1885, and from the state university in the civil engineering course in 1894.

Since leaving the university he has been engaged in engineering work in different parts of the United States and in December 1897, he went with the surveying party to Nicaragua, where he has remained in charge of one of the government stations.

The remains were interred in Central America.

Mr. Humphrey's parents reside on St. Marys avenue and they have the sympathy of many friends.

Dr. C. A. Miner

Dr. Clark A. Miner, who for a number of years made Janesville his home, residing at the corner of High and Center streets, died yesterday afternoon at 12:30 o'clock at his home in Milwaukee, aged 67 years. For several months Dr. Miner had been ill with blood poisoning, though the immediate cause of death was a stroke of apoplexy experienced yesterday forenoon. Dr. Miner was born in Alden, N. Y., on May 9, 1832, and came west when a young man, settling first in Chicago. After several years of successful practice of his profession as physician and surgeon, all his belongings were lost in the Chicago fire, and he was compelled to begin anew. In 1857, he moved to Janesville, where he remained for eleven years, going to Milwaukee and opening an office at his home on Cass street. He is survived by a wife and one brother, James A. Miner of Chicago.

David Kelly.

David Kelly, a highly esteemed and respected citizen of Milton Junction, died suddenly yesterday morning. He had been ailing but a short time when suddenly he expired. His afflicted family which consists of a wife and two sons and one daughter, Mrs. William Paul, have the sympathy of all.

Mrs. L. C. Thompson

Funeral services over the remains of the late Mrs. L. C. Thompson were held this morning from her home near Shople at 10 o'clock. The interment was in Oak Hill cemetery.

PURCHASE ADDITIONAL WOOL

Fisher & Bullock Continue to Buy in This Section.

Fisher & Bullock, the well known Rock county wool buyers, have been busy here this week taking in wool for shipment.

George Yahn, of this city, also made a 1,000 pound purchase.

They've Not Long to Wait.

For three weeks one hundred boys and girls and thirty young ladies have been hard at work preparing for a rare treat. Enthusiasm is in the air; we've all felt it; for what interests the young people interests us all. And who among us has not heard of "The Pixies," to be produced at the opera house here on Monday evening of next week? Rehearsals have been held daily under the sole direction of Mr. W. A. Milne of Chicago, who has had many years' experience in this work. This is not a simple children's play, but a big, fairly extravagant, the elaborateness of which can be appreciated only by seeing it. Nothing of the kind has ever been attempted here, and when the curtain rises on the beautiful tableau "Surprise in Fairyland," nothing but surprises will be in store for all who attend, for the young people shall acquit themselves like professionals. The big chorus will be supported by a full orchestra, and no pains nor money will be spared to make this presentation a creditable one. Dainty fairies, glittering with spangles and robed in filmy gowns, grotesque Pixies, whose very appearance is the signal for an outburst of laughter, weird furies in witch-like costumes and covered with wriggling serpents, the little butterfly guard, the graceful archers, the stalwart amazons with spear and shield, the funny little coons and the mischievous goblins all will be on hand to delight you. Are you going?

THEIR EXAMINATION ADJOURNED TODAY

DILLON AND DIXON CASE SET FOR JUNE 13.

Owing to the non arrival of Insurance Papers, District Attorney Jackson Asked That the Case Be Put Off—John Arquette Said To Be Interested.

Owing to the non arrival of papers known as the "proof of loss" from the Niagara Fire Insurance company, of New York, and the Phoenix Insurance company, of Brooklyn, the examination in the case of the State of Wisconsin vs. Anthony Dixon and Thomas Dillon was adjourned at 10 o'clock this morning until June 13, at 9 o'clock.

The defendants are charged with setting fire to their training stables at the fair grounds on the night of Saturday, April 8, 1899.

When the case was called this morning the defendants appeared in court represented by their attorney, George G. Sutherland, of Sutherland & Nolan, District Attorney Jackson appearing for the state.

District Attorney Jackson informed the court that the interested insurance companies had as yet failed to forward the papers in their possession known as the "proof of loss" and that the case would have to be adjourned.

It is now alleged that the arrest of the defendants was brought about by evidence given by John Arquette, of this city, who is now said to be in Milwaukee.

Arquette, it is alleged, states that he will tell how the barn was fired when the case is brought before the court and that he took a band in the affair.

Messrs. Dixon and Dillon claim that they are innocent and when the proper time comes they will be able to clear themselves. Both claim to have witnesses who will prove an alibi.

Mr. Dixon says that Arquette failed to get work in the county because he would not recommend him and that on his return to this city he threatened that someday he would get even with him.

It is also alleged that the insurance companies claim that the defendants listed property in their proof of loss that was never destroyed.

To this charge the interested parties claim that they have witnesses who will swear as to the alleged destroyed property being in the barn at the time of the fire.

ORDINANCES ARE GOOD ONES

However, Bicycle Riders Have Certain Rights and Should Be Protected.

The city authorities of Janesville are wise in keeping bicycles off the side walks and making wheelmen carry lamps at night. The bicycles are so numerous that safety demands that people have some means of knowing when they are coming.

The lamp, law is a good one and should be enforced. But the wheelmen have some rights and the driver of fast horses should be restrained from compelling them to fall into the ditches to save their lives. The fact that a bicycle is classed as a vehicle and compelled to keep off walks, argues that it has rights in the road and their rights should be protected. Gentlemen and ladies are frequently driven out of the road by careless drivers and people who seem to believe they own the road and that wheelmen are fair game to drive into the gutter.

LINE NOW NEARLY FINISHED

Route to Lake Geneva Will Be Running This Month.

The completion of the new Harvard and Lake Geneva electric line will open up a large territory to quick communication with the lake and add much to the numbers of visitors who will go there each summer. Previously it has been necessary to go to Delavan and take a bus from there.

Now it will be easy to go to Harvard and take the new line to the lake. Frequent trains and electric cars to meet all will make it possible for men to have their families there and be able to go up for Sunday and return early Monday morning. The whole northern part of Illinois will be made directly tributary to the lake and the new arrangements should add much to the patronage of the resort this summer.

FOURTH OF JULY MEETING

A HINT TO SMALL BOYS

Pointer to those in the Habit of Slaughtering Harmless Birds.

Bad boys of Janesville, who, in the past, have made a business of slaughtering harmless birds, would do well to cut out the following and paste it in their hats: Section 4565 of the revised laws of Wisconsin reads, "any person who shall catch or kill at any time, or for any purpose whatever, except as authorized by law, any whippoorwill, night-hawk, blue bird, finch, thrush, robin, lark, turtle dove, or other harmless bird, shall be punished by a fine of not more than fifty dollars or by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than thirty days, provided that this section shall not apply to blackbirds, crows, English sparrows or pigeons for trap shooting."

EVERY person should make the most of an opportunity as it presents itself. The opportunity for shoe buying at our special $2.98 sale next Saturday is one that no thoughtful, economical person can afford to miss. Brown Bros.

AGED WIFE BEATER AGAIN IN BASTILE

SENTENCED FOUR TIMES ON SAME CHARGE.

He Says That He Just Simply Can't Help Beating His Better Half When He Is Under the Influence of Liquor—Intends Now to Reform—Well Known Here.

For the fourth time on the same charge, that of wife beating, Conrad Rau of Beloit, is now lingering behind the bars of the Rock county jail. Yesterday he was brought here to serve out a six months sentence.

The prisoner is sixty-five years of age. On the charge of wife beating Rau served six months in jail here under ex-Sheriff Hogan.

When ex-Sheriff Bear was in charge of the jail, Rau spent six months for the same offense.

The aged prisoner also spent sixty days in jail during ex-Sheriff Acheson's time for cutting his son with a knife.

At the jail today Rau stated that he never beat his wife only when he was under the influence of liquor and that at all other times he loved her as only a true husband could.

When released from jail Rau says he intends to return home and be a man.

HOW TO "SPIK ZE INGLESS."

Rev. Sam Small
Tells of the Cubans' Struggle With Our Language.

Rev. Sam W. Small, who went to Cuba as chaplain of the Third United States volunteer regiment, is now superintendent of public instruction for the department of Cienfuegos. In this capacity he has observed the difficulties of Cubans in learning English and of Americans in learning Spanish. On this topic he writes from Cienfuegos:

We Americans, when at home, can almost any time have fun with ourselves over "English as she spoke" or should be spoken. Here in Cuba, throughout the American camps, the problem is reversed, and the all absorbing question of debate is, "How do you say it in Spanish?"

The soldier boys have trouble enough with the native patois to keep them busy and know just enough of the argot of the town to get into all sorts of trouble over their purchases, payments and change.

Yet there has come with the American occupation a yet more interesting affair of the tongue. The eagerness of the Cubans to learn "to spik Ingless" is astonishing and extends even to the shirtless little, bronzed little of the pavements and cabin doors.

So far they have generally got hold well of but a few current words and phrases. As one passes along the streets the swarms of muchachos will pelt him from all sides with shouts of "Yas," "Hello!" "Goo' by!" and "Goo' nite!" If you reply to them, they are as delighted as if you had given them a stick of candy a foot long.

The serious portion of the Cuban community, however, are going about the matter of acquiring a conversational knowledge of English as a social and business investment.

They seem to realize that a large part of their future affairs must have to do with America and Americans. American markets, trade, exchange, literature, politics, schools and newspapers will soon have important places in the consideration of all classes in Cuba, and instinctively the man of enterprise feels that he needs a quick, workable knowledge of the language used in the United States.

Indeed some of them will tell you, with a quaint shrug of the shoulders and a touch of logical humor, that "the million Cubans should learn English before the 80,000,000 of Americans can learn Spanish!"

So they are eagerly picking up every American word and phrase that they "need in their business," so to speak, and not a few of them have made very respectable progress in the two months of opportunity afforded them by the presence and bartering of the American soldiers.

More ambitious and fruitful efforts are being made by many intelligent persons of the community. They have purchased some of the published standard "methods" of acquiring the English idiom and secured the help of teachers. These are making very fine progress in the vocabulary and grammar of the language, although some of their struggles with the pronunciation are exciting and epileptic.

In this particular city, however, they have the aid also of quite a number of their fellow citizens who are sent away in their youth to American schools, classical or professional, and therefore can speak English with fair precision and understanding.

It is the purpose of the American authorities here, provided they are allowed to carry out pending program for the tutelage of the islanders in civil administration, to introduce the teaching of English into the public schools. It is found that, without added expense, teachers perfectly competent in Spanish and sufficiently so in English can be secured for the new system that is contemplated. If this purpose is put into execution the quick propagating seeds and roots of the English idiom will soon be spread from the schoolrooms into the major part of the households of the community.

It is not an unusual thing, on the Paseo in the evening, to see a stalwart American captain or major meekly and sedulously taking his Spanish lesson from a couple of bright eyed, merry little Cuban girls.

The main agony of the American happens, however, when he unhappily negotiates for "Leck-see-ohns" from one of the "professors ambulantes" or walking teachers. One of these is sure to prove a philological peach. He knows, as a rule, scarcely enough English to stop a dog fight in the street, and his Spanish is mostly that of the cafe and the calle, or, in plain English the slang of the street.

This party is both a professor of Castilian and a practitioner of calisthenics, for it goes as a proverb that, if you should cut off a Spaniard's arms and hands, there is nothing left but to send him to an asylum for deaf mutes.

One-third of a Cuban conversation is made up of vowels and the other two-thirds of violence. A one armed man can only make himself half understood.

But the Spanish professor takes himself very seriously. He teaches you the language with an insistence that is bound to produce results or a riot. The first thing he does is to mulct you for the price of a book called "El Metodo." You can guess that for "The Method" of learning the language. This book is worthy to have been fathered by Josh Billings. The representations of what the Spanish phrases mean in English are fearfully and wonderfully framed.

For instance, how would you like to have a strange man stop you in the road and demand:

"Just iz you nein?"

That simply means "What is your name?" as the polite Cuban says it in English. But if you put the same question to him you must say in Spanish:

"Cual es su nombre?"

Living here in the atmosphere that reeks with the Spanish idioms, having to do nearly all your talking to people who know no other tongue, seeing and hearing the words and sounds everywhere, an adept American should not be long in acquiring a speaking acquaintance with the language.

The fun, however, gets to be a three ring circus when you discover how the Cuban is being taught to speak English. "Giv mi blac zred," he is told in the book, is the proper thing to say when he wants to say, "Give me black thread." If he desires to say, "Waiter, give me a glass of cool water!" he must try to utter it this way: "Ueiter, giv mie glas of cul notari!"

"Eni jaw" stands for "Anyhow," and "Javiu eni gud jats?" means "Have you any good hats?" and if you have he says, "Zen-guin!" where we would say, "Thank you!" Also, if your Cuban friend wishes you to understand that he will take a walk in the city, he astounds you with the declaration, "Ai nil to noe di citi!"

To proceed with these illustrations no further, doubtless you will agree that the Cuban has a hard road to travel if he is to learn the lingo of the Yankee and try to keep step to the tunes of American civilization.

REV. SAM W. SMALL.

Almost Worthy of

They Need It
In Their Business.

They seem to realize that a large part of their future affairs must have to do with America and Americans. American markets, trade, exchange, literature, politics, schools and newspapers will soon have important places in the consideration of all classes in Cuba, and instinctively the man of enterprise feels that he needs a quick, workable knowledge of the language used in the United States.

Indeed some of them will tell you, with a quaint shrug of the shoulders and a touch of logical humor, that "the million Cubans should learn English before the 80,000,000 of Americans can learn Spanish!"

So they are eagerly picking up every American word and phrase that they "need in their business," so to speak, and not a few of them have made very respectable progress in the two months of opportunity afforded them by the presence and bartering of the American soldiers.

More ambitious and fruitful efforts are being made by many intelligent persons of the community. They have purchased some of the published standard "methods" of acquiring the English idiom and secured the help of teachers. These are making very fine progress in the vocabulary and grammar of the language, although some of their struggles with the pronunciation are exciting and epileptic.

In this particular city, however, they have the aid also of quite a number of their fellow citizens who are sent away in their youth to American schools, classical or professional, and therefore can speak English with fair precision and understanding.

It is the purpose of the American authorities here, provided they are allowed to carry out pending program for the tutelage of the islanders in civil administration, to introduce the teaching of English into the public schools. It is found that, without added expense, teachers perfectly competent in Spanish and sufficiently so in English can be secured for the new system that is contemplated. If this purpose is put into execution the quick propagating seeds and roots of the English idiom will soon be spread from the schoolrooms into the major part of the households of the community.

It is not an unusual thing, on the Paseo in the evening, to see a stalwart American captain or major meekly and sedulously taking his Spanish lesson from a couple of bright eyed, merry little Cuban girls.

The main agony of the American happens, however, when he unhappily negotiates for "Leck-see-ohns" from one of the "professors ambulantes" or walking teachers. One of these is sure to prove a philological peach. He knows, as a rule, scarcely enough English to stop a dog fight in the street, and his Spanish is mostly that of the cafe and the calle, or, in plain English the slang of the street.

This party is both a professor of Castilian and a practitioner of calisthenics, for it goes as a proverb that, if you should cut off a Spaniard's arms and hands, there is nothing left but to send him to an asylum for deaf mutes.

One-third of a Cuban conversation is made up of vowels and the other two-thirds of violence. A one armed man can only make himself half understood.

But the Spanish professor takes himself very seriously. He teaches you the language with an insistence that is bound to produce results or a riot. The first thing he does is to mulct you for the price of a book called "El Metodo." You can guess that for "The Method" of learning the language. This book is worthy to have been fathered by Josh Billings. The representations of what the Spanish phrases mean in English are fearfully and wonderfully framed.

For instance, how would you like to have a strange man stop you in the road and demand:

"Just iz you nein?"

That simply means "What is your name?" as the polite Cuban says it in English. But if you put the same question to him you must say in Spanish:

"Cual es su nombre?"

Living here in the atmosphere that reeks with the Spanish idioms, having to do nearly all your talking to people who know no other tongue, seeing and hearing the words and sounds everywhere, an adept American should not be long in acquiring a speaking acquaintance with the language.

The fun, however, gets to be a three ring circus when you discover how the Cuban is being taught to speak English. "Giv mi blac zred," he is told in the book, is the proper thing to say when he wants to say, "Give me black thread." If he desires to say, "Waiter, give me a glass of cool water!" he must try to utter it this way: "Ueiter, giv mie glas of cul notari!"

"Eni jaw" stands for "Anyhow," and "Javiu eni gud jats?" means "Have you any good hats?" and if you have he says, "Zen-guin!" where we would say, "Thank you!" Also, if your Cuban friend wishes you to understand that he will take a walk in the city, he astounds you with the declaration, "Ai nil to noe di citi!"

To proceed with these illustrations no further, doubtless you will agree that the Cuban has a hard road to travel if he is to learn the lingo of the Yankee and try to keep step to the tunes of American civilization.

The Best is Always The Cheapest.

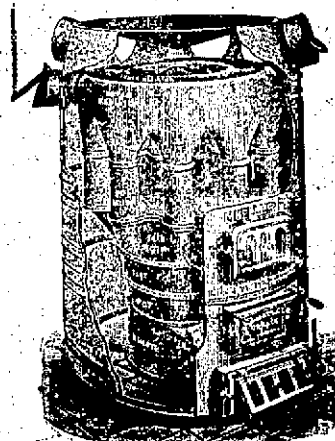

This holds good in a Furnace as much as in anything else. A poor, cheap Furnace is the bane to any man's life. He pays almost as much for a half good heater as he would for a all cast Furnace, and in a few years different parts, or the whole apparatus must be replaced.

Mueller's Cast Furnaces

last a life time, are more economical in fuel, and will absolutely not escape gas. No bolts are used through out the Furnace. Fire pots are constructed in two heavy parts, allowing them to expand and contract at the very point where required.

Mueller-Furnaces have many superior points over others—their being of cast iron adds weight and also extra heat. We have one set upon our floor so that you can see all about it.
